Vetera™ West Nile Virus Assurance Program

Rest Assured with Vetera West Nile Virus Vaccines

In developing Vetera WNV, Vetera EWT + WNV and Vetera VEWT + WNV, we chose not to use the original NY99 strain that all previous WNV vaccines have been based upon. Instead, Vetera West Nile virus vaccines use a contemporary horse isolate representative of the West Nile virus strain horses are most likely to be exposed to today.

With the Vetera Vaccination Assurance Program, Boehringer Ingelheim Vetmedica, Inc. will cover the diagnostics and treatment costs, up to a maximum of $2,000 per animal, for any horse that has been properly vaccinated with a Vetera West Nile virus vaccine and is diagnosed with West Nile virus. Talk to your veterinarian about the Terms and Conditions that apply.

By incorporating Vetera West Nile virus vaccines into your disease prevention program, you can be assured of protection against West Nile virus.

In fact, we guarantee protection against West Nile virus for one year!

Emily is a really nice mare that is super gentle. Emily is the mare I personally ride. She is extremely quiet in the branding pen. She has had cattle roped on her in the pasture and the arena. She has had steers headed and heeled on her. I would not consider her finished in any of these events. Emily would be an ideal horse for youth rodeos. She is a mare you could truly enjoy. It is with reservation that I offer her for sale because she is ideal for my grandkids to ride. I just have too many mares that fit this category.

This bay colt has been easy-going and gentle since he was on his momma and just keeps getting friendlier. He's been my pick from the start. With proven cutters on both sides of his papers, this guy is bred just right to want to watch a cow. Terry Blue of Graford has been readying Zero Whiz Boy for the sale and has him riding nice.
